Profile

- I am a data analyst computer science student currently studying at Bina Nusantara University. I can think critically and analyze things clearly and in detail. Therefore, Data Analytics is a role that I am very good at. I am also a very sociable person and love to learn new things. Working in a team is one of my favorites because I think by working in a team, a job can be done and completed perfectly and efficiently. If someone is in trouble, I'll be happy to help.
